 $^{^3}$ The rules concerning admissibility of evidence in criminal trials do not apply to the presentation and consideration of information at the [detention] hearing. 18 U.S.C. \S 3142(f). See 18 U.S.C. \S 3142(g) for the factors to be taken into account.

In addition:

The defendant violated conditions of her pretrial release by repeatedly failing to report to the pretrial service officer. At the defendant's request she was screened for placement in a halfway house, but was not deemed suitable for placement. The defendant requests that she placed in the third-party custody of her mother while she attempts to locate a residential treatment facility. The defendant has not yet located a treatment facility that will accept her, which could result in the defendant remaining in the custody of her mother for an extended period. The Court however, finds that placing the defendant in the custody of her mother would not provide adequate supervision or ensure the defendant's compliance with court orders. The pretrial services officer reports that at a home visit, the defendant's mother did not know the defendant's whereabouts. The defendant pleaded guilty to assault and her sentencing is set for February 2014. Based upon the defendant's assaultive conduct, and her failure to maintain any contact with the pretrial services officer, the Court finds that she poses a danger to the community and a flight risk and that these risks cannot be addressed by any available conditions.

The Court incorporates by reference the findings of the Pretrial Services Agency which were reviewed by the Court at the time of the hearing in this matter.

PART III -- DIRECTIONS REGARDING DETENTION

The defendant is committed to the custody of the Attorney General or his/her designated representative for confinement in a corrections facility separate, to the extent practicable, from persons awaiting or serving sentences or being held in custody pending appeal. The defendant shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity for private consultation with defense counsel. On order of a court of the United States or on request of an attorney for the Government, the person in charge of the corrections facility shall deliver the defendant to the United States Marshal for the purpose of an appearance in connection with a court proceeding.

PART IV -- APPEALS AND THIRD PARTY RELEASE

IT IS ORDERED that should an appeal of this detention order be filed with the District Court, it is counsel's responsibility to deliver a copy of the motion for review/reconsideration to Pretrial Services at least one day prior to the hearing set before the District Court. Pursuant to Rule 59(a), FED.R.CRIM.P., effective December 1, 2009, Defendant shall have fourteen (14) days from the date of service of a copy of this order or after the oral order is stated on the record within which to file specific written objections with the district court. Failure to timely file objections in accordance with Rule 59(a) may waive the right to review. 59(a), FED.R.CRIM.P.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that if a release to a third party is to be considered, it is counsel's responsibility to notify Pretrial Services sufficiently in advance of the hearing before the District Court to allow Pretrial Services an opportunity to interview and investigate the potential third party custodian.

DATED this 6th day of December, 2013.
